

To Our Valued Customer

Coronavirus Update

Pailton's underlying business fundamentals remain strong. We have mitigated any potential disruption to our supply chain by building inventories, continuing to cross train the workforce to maintain production and by taking pro-active measures to support and protect our workforce.

Effective immediately, many of our office-based staff will be working from home on a rotational basis. The production teams will continue to operate key processes under enhanced safety initiatives.

Our site will be closed to non-essential visitors and we will refrain from visiting our customers; encouraging the use of conference calls and video conferencing.

We will continue to monitor the advice from the UK Government and will act in accordance with her recommendations. We will communicate as quickly as possible, any changes to these interim measures.

We will remain pro-active and transparent in our communications with our partners and we ask that you do likewise with any known goods receiving restrictions or financial challenges.

Should you wish to contact us on any matter, the following are available to assist you:
